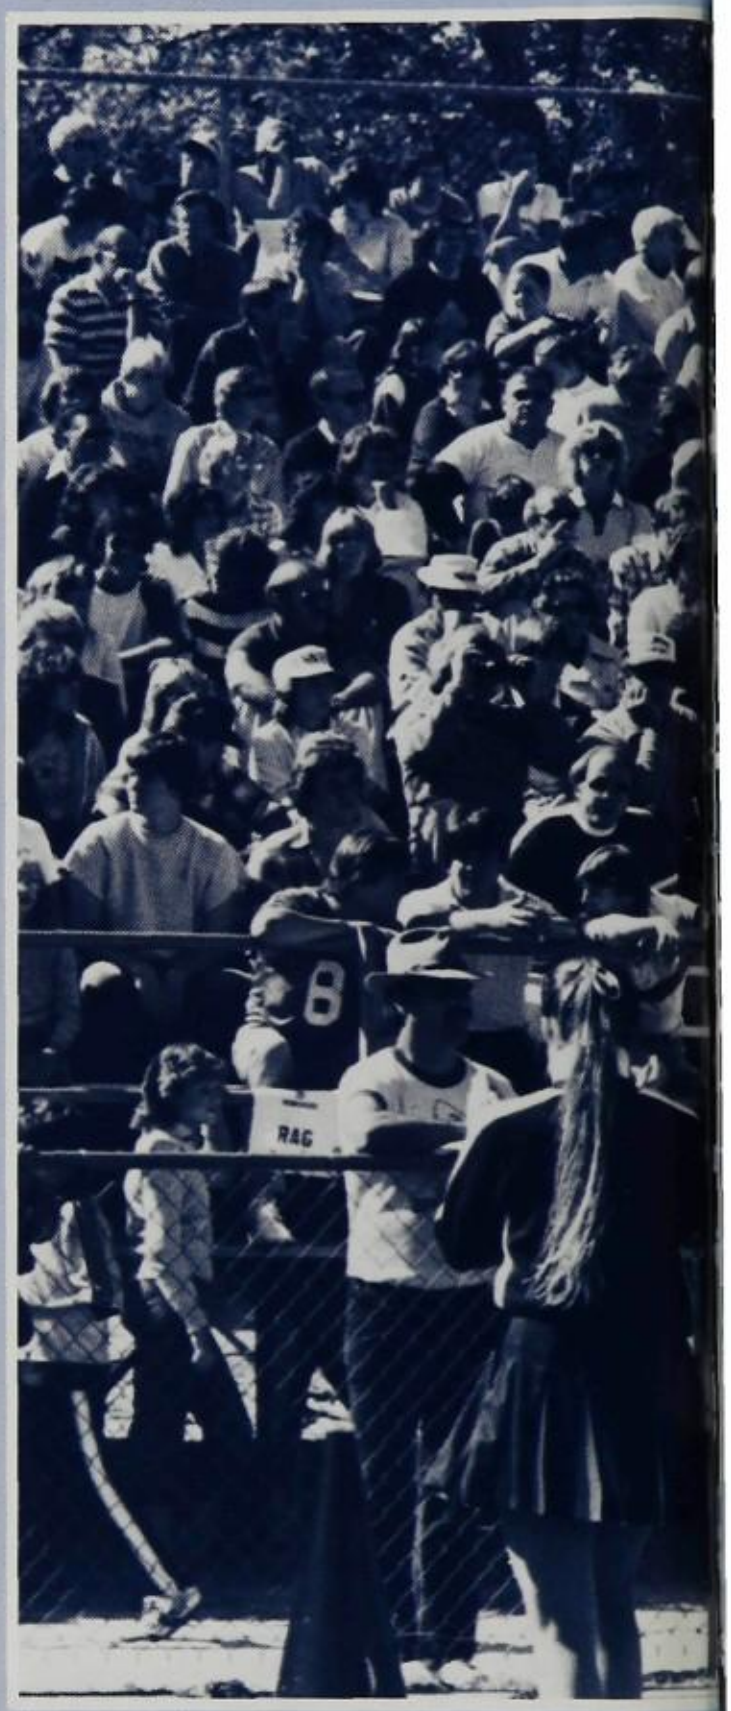
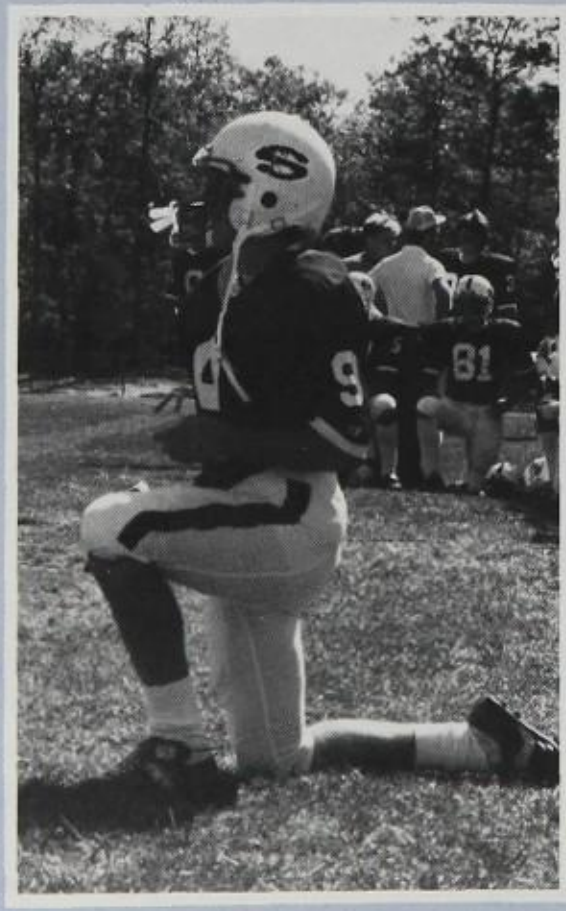
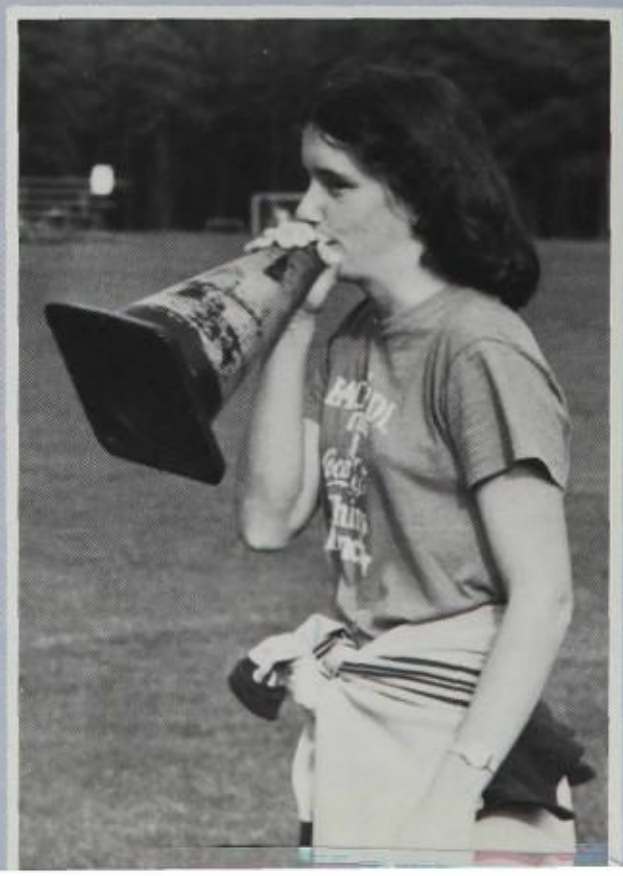
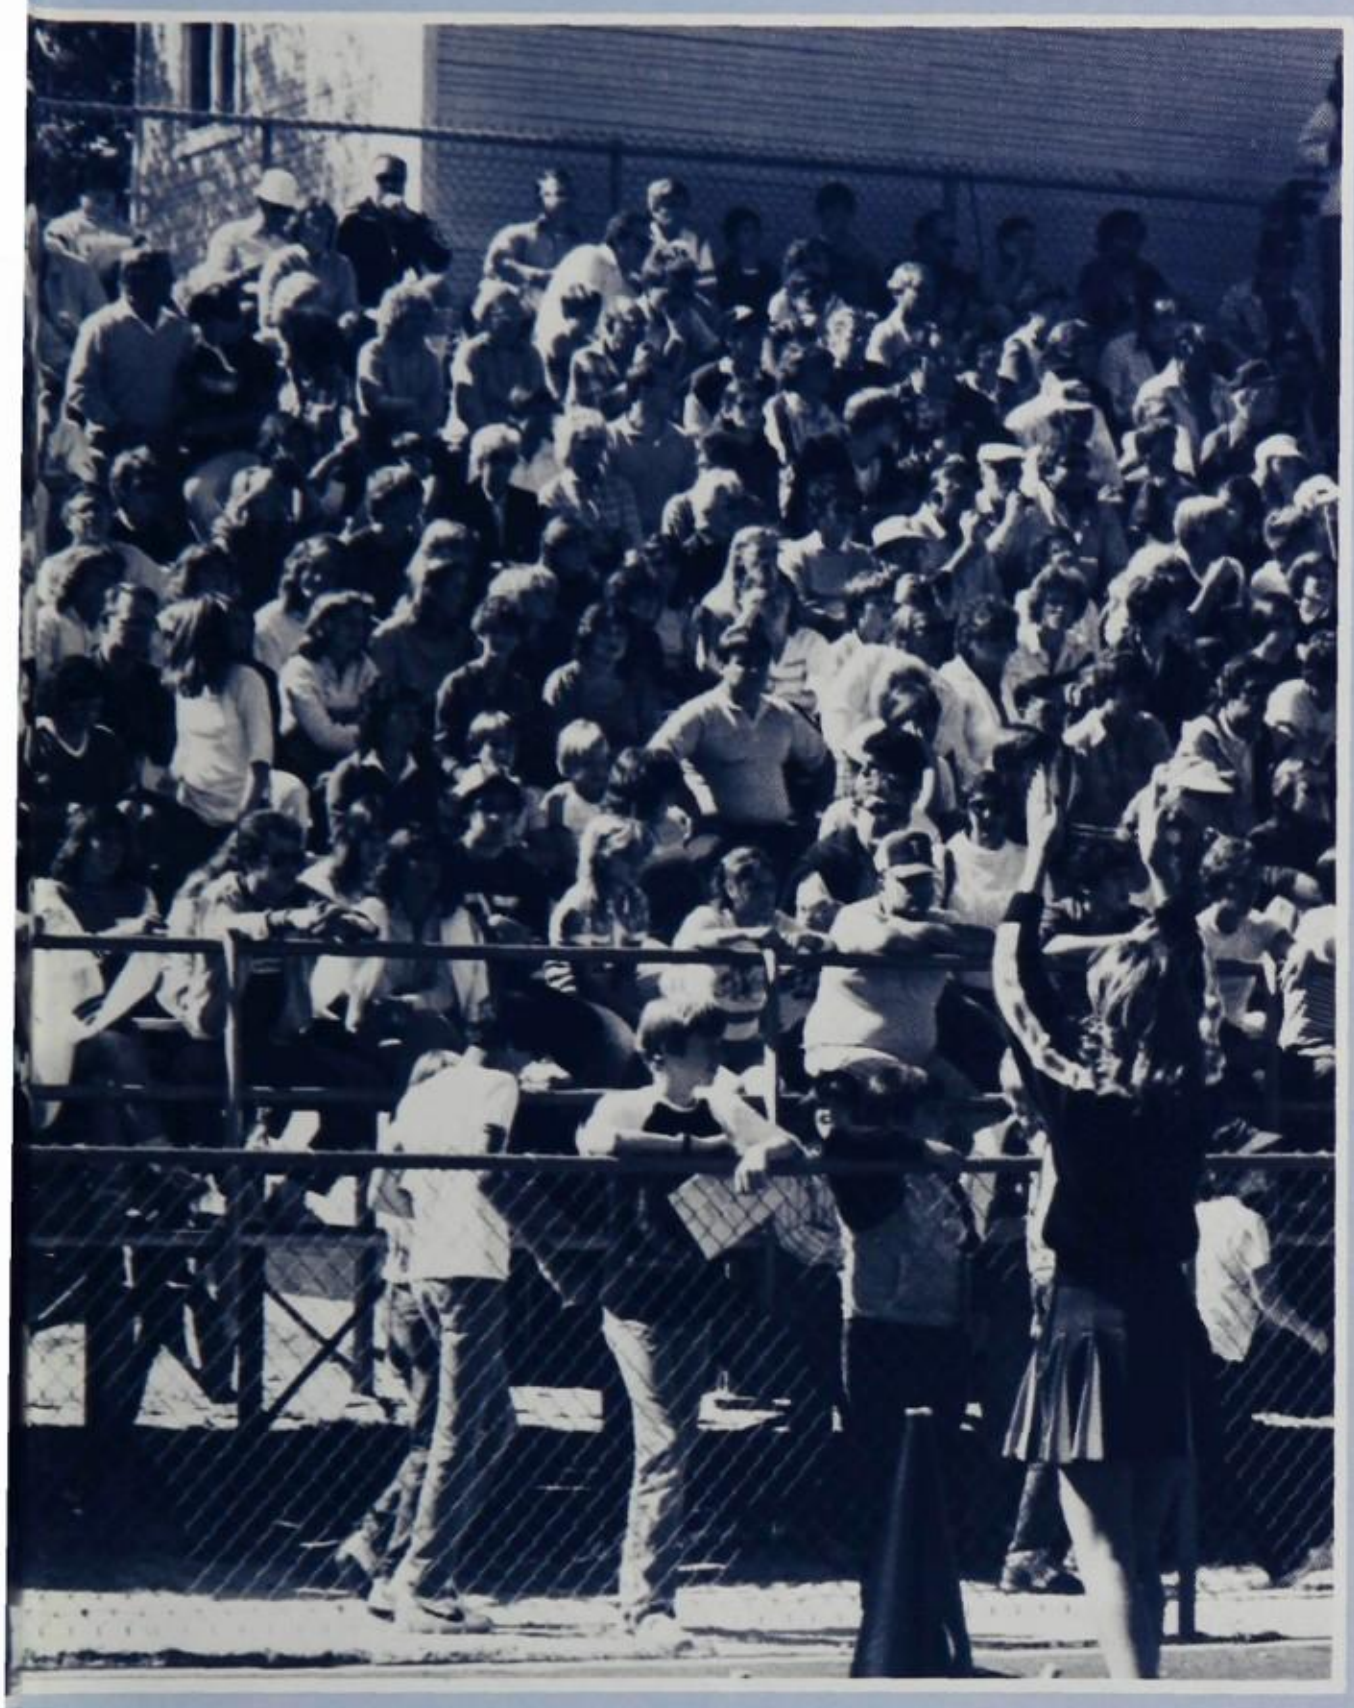
If I could save time in a bottle
The first thing that I'd like to do
Is to save everyday 'til eternity passes away.
just to spend them with you.









If I could make days last forever,
If words could make wishes come true.

I'd save every day like a treasure and then again
I would spend them with you.

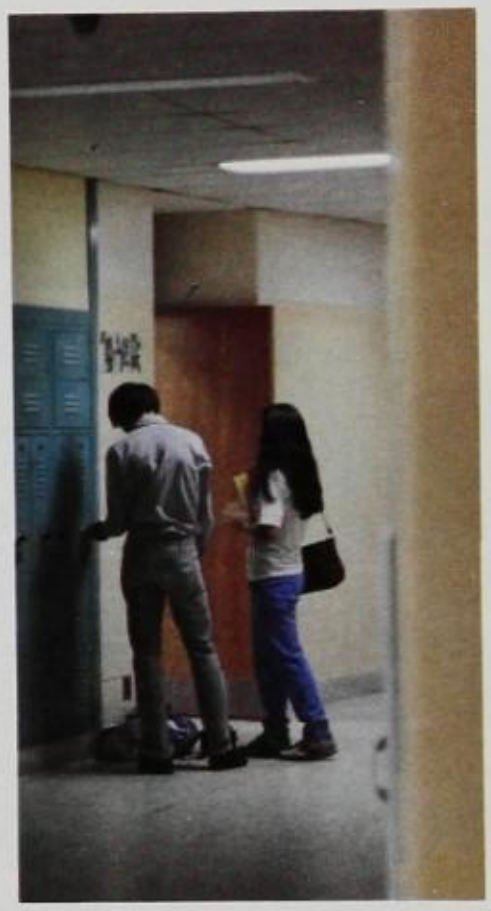
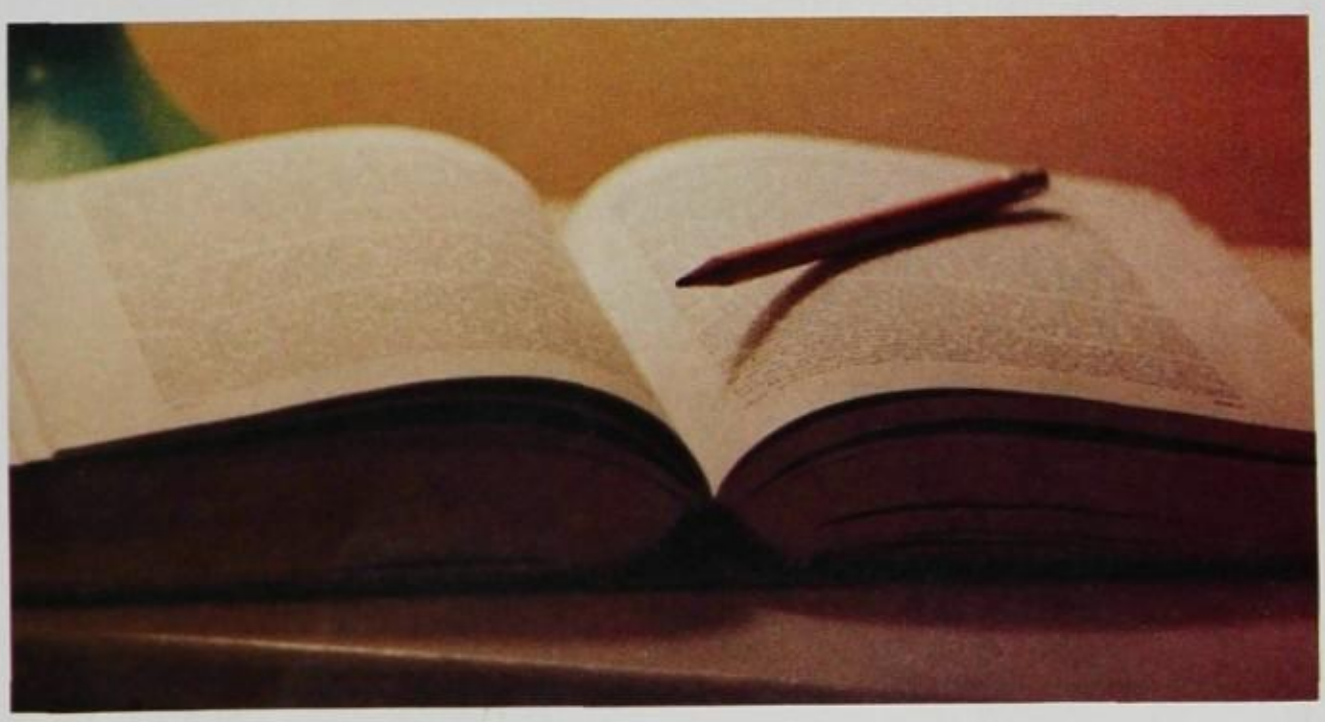
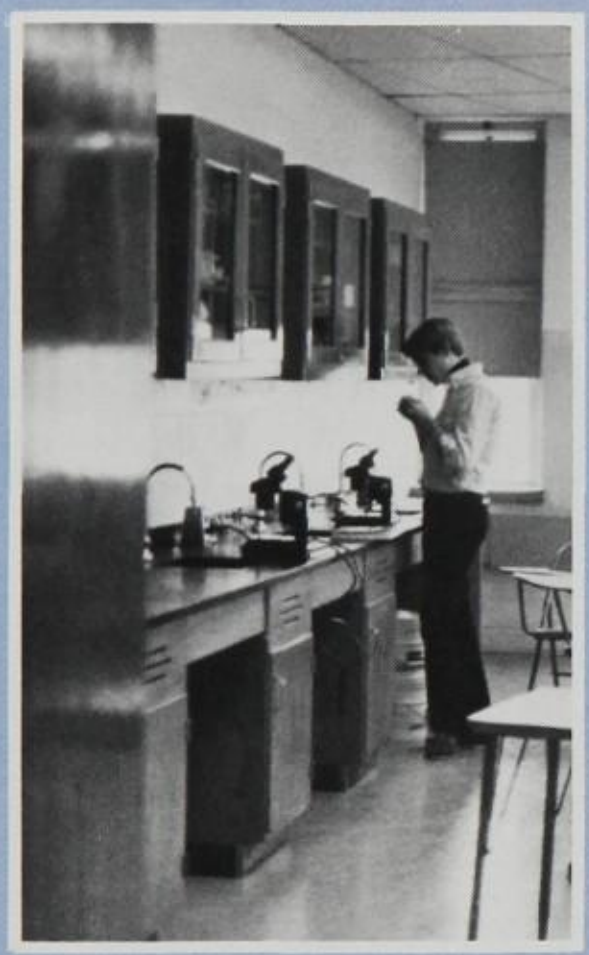
But there never seems to be enough time to do the things you want to do once you find them.

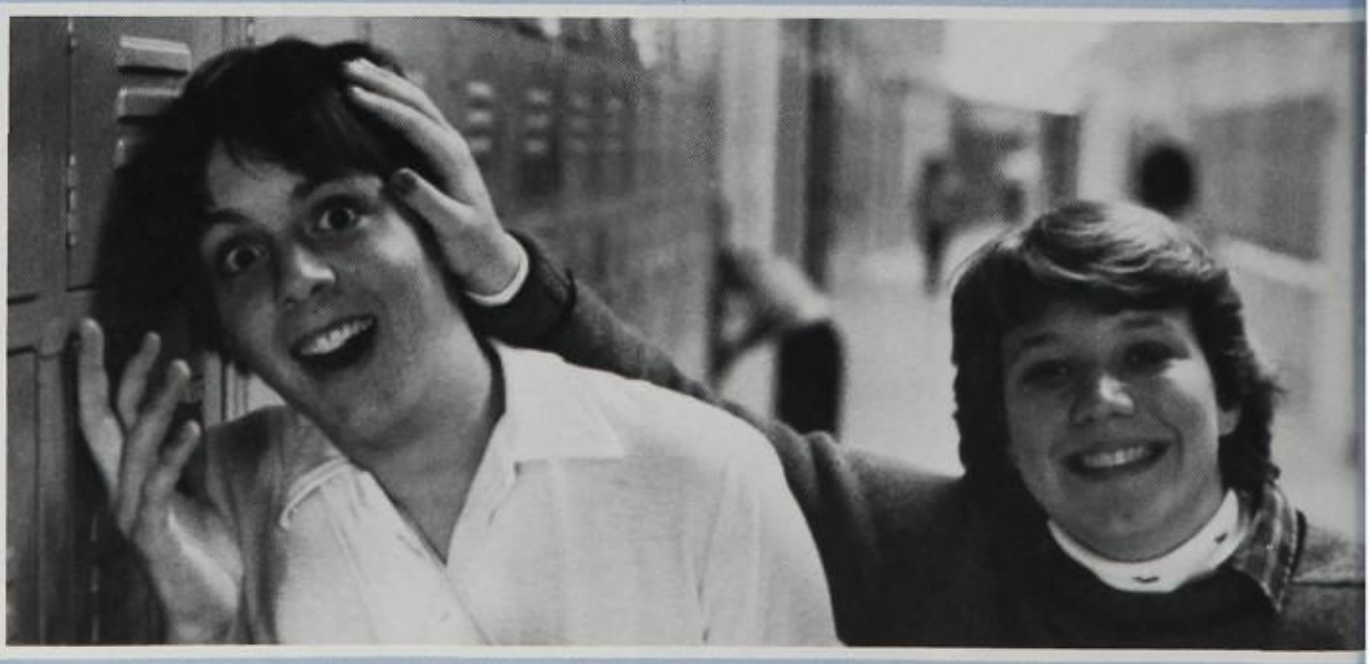
I've looked around enough to know that you're the one I want to go through time with.





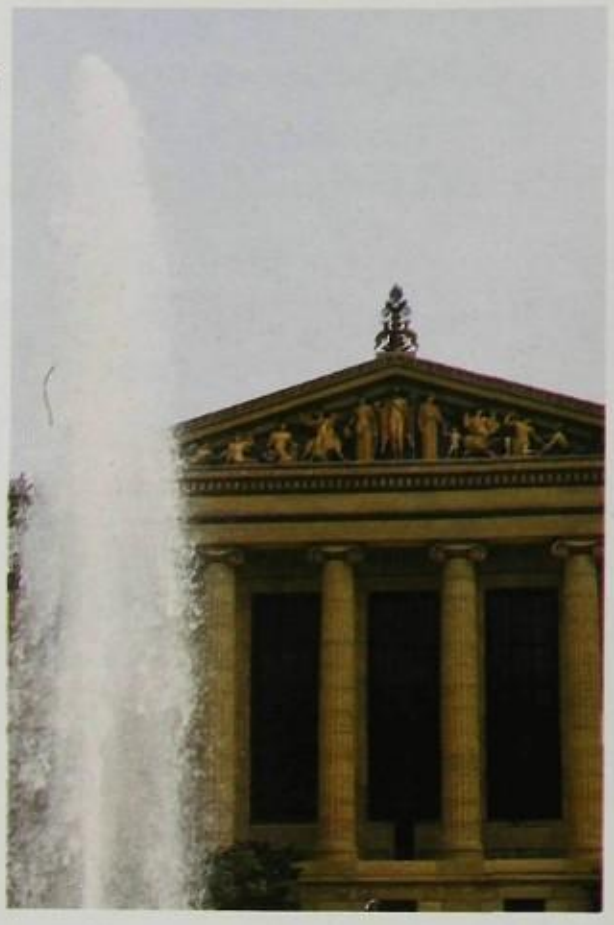
If I had a box just for wishes,

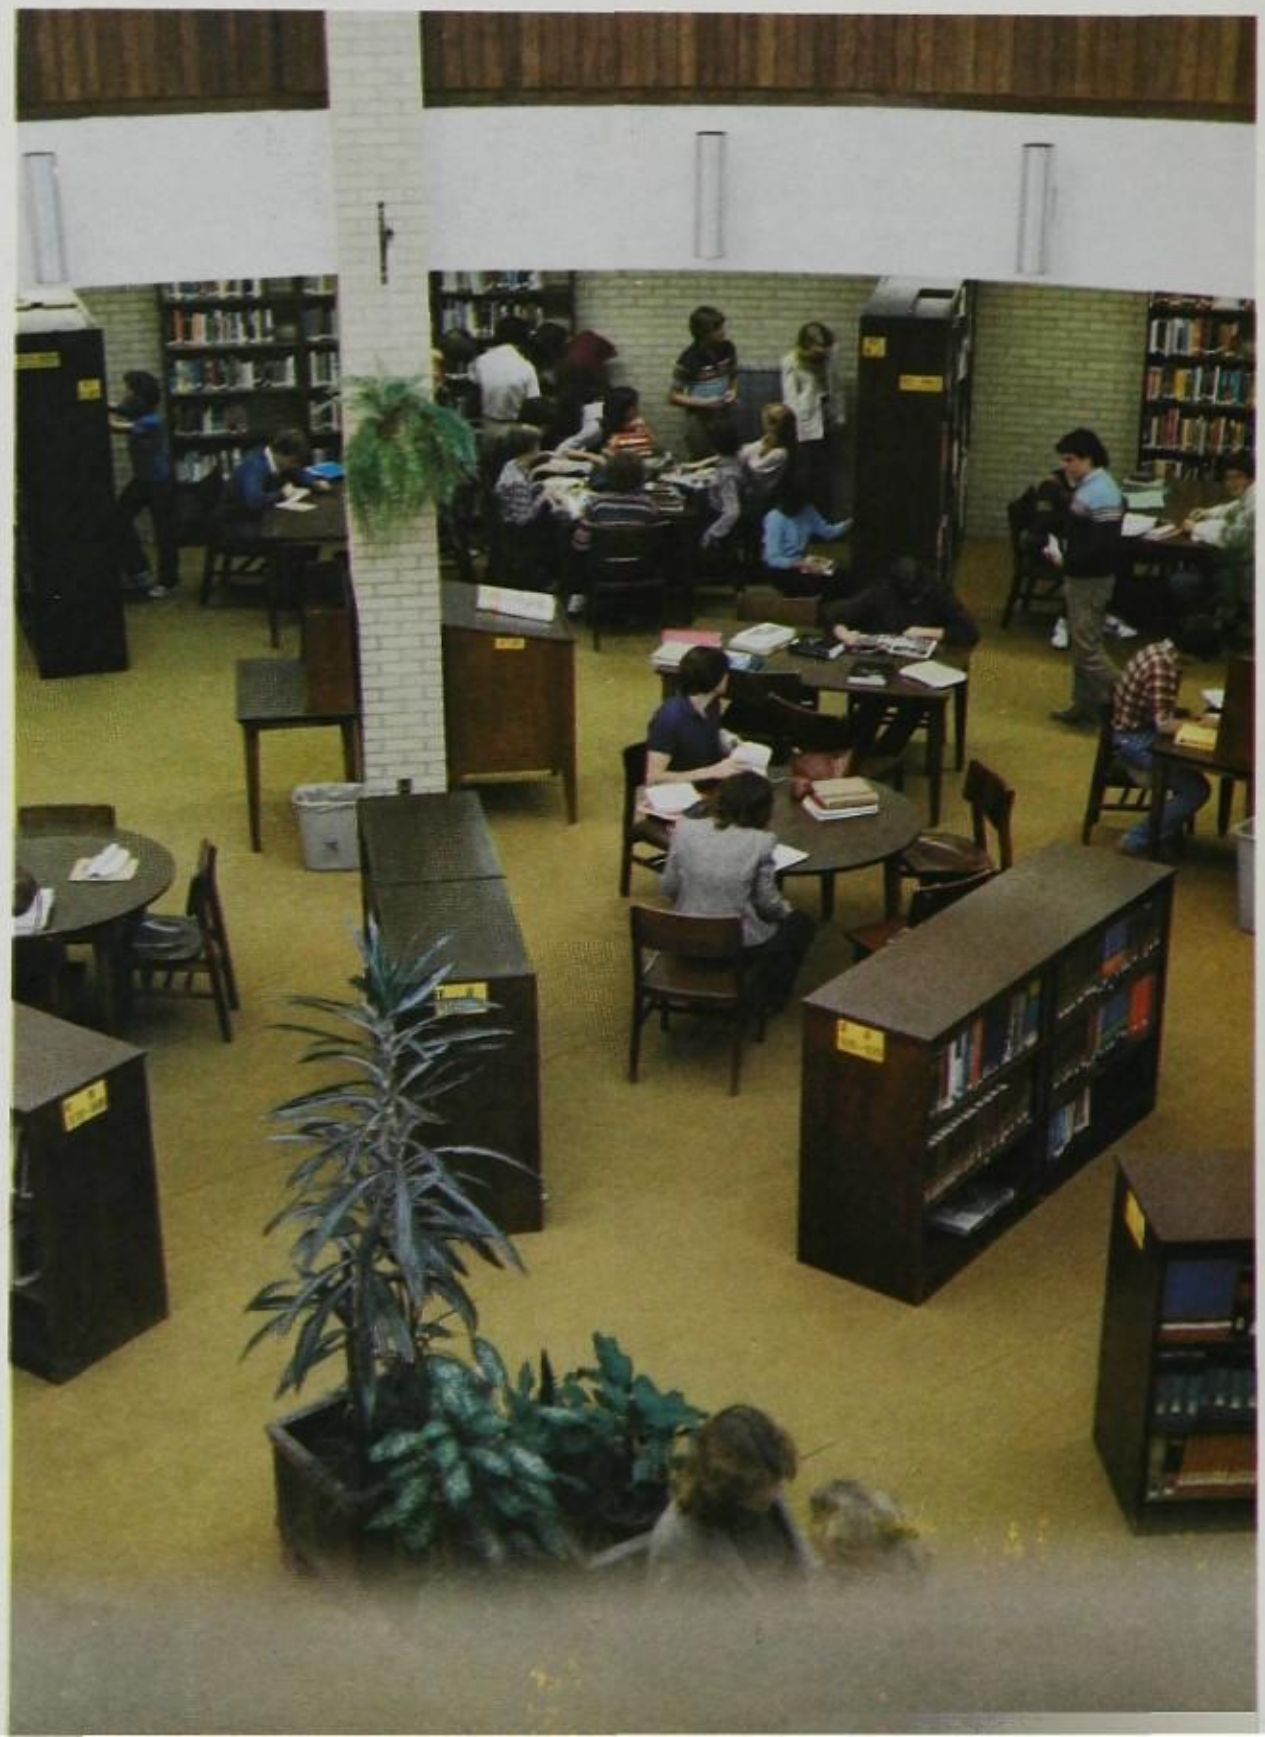




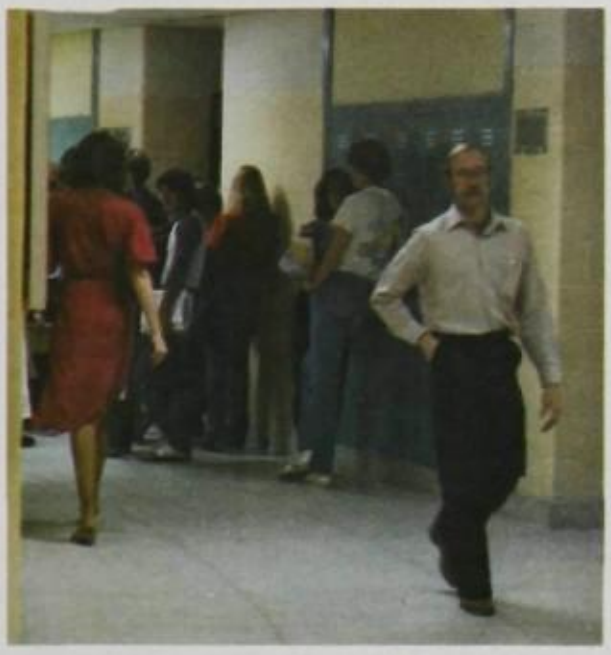
And dreams that had never come true.

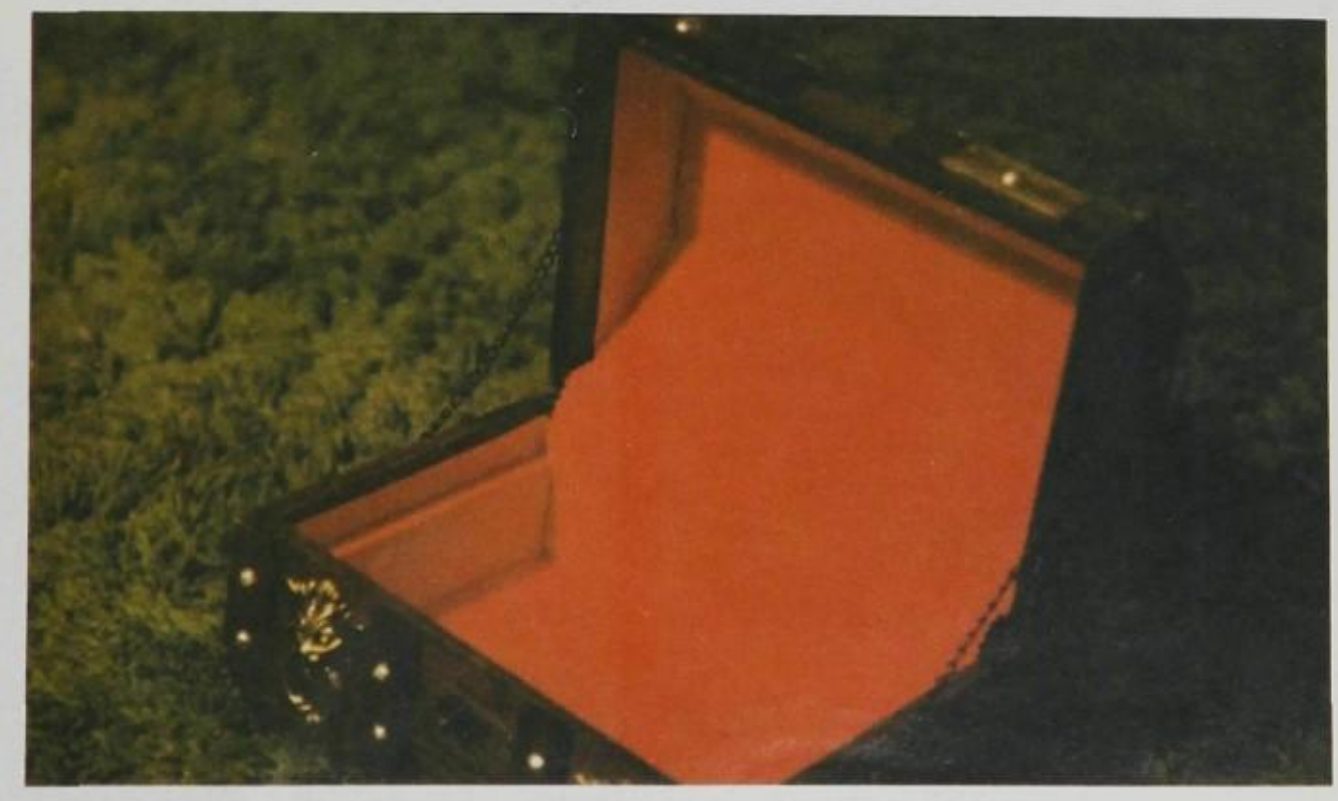
HAPPY NEW YEAR
YOU'RE INVITED
THE 1982 WORLD'S FAIR

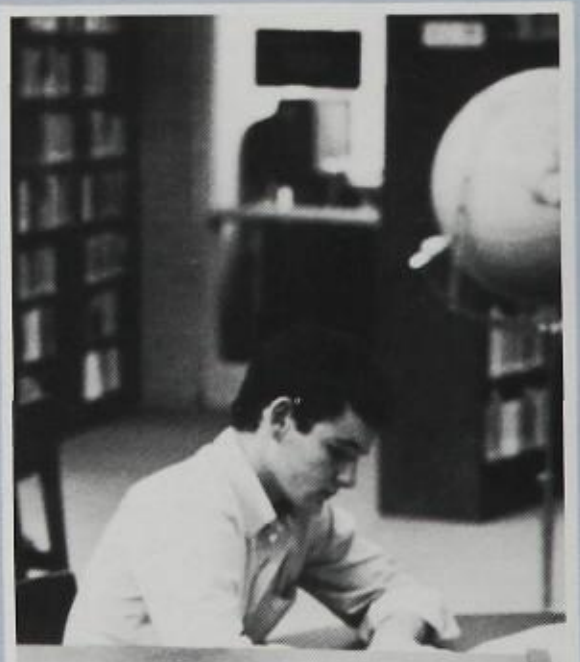




The box would be empty except for the memory of how they were answered by you.







But there never seems to be enough time to do the things you want to do once you find them.

I've looked around enough to know you're the one I want to go through time with.

Dedication Given To Mrs. Bancroft And Mr. West

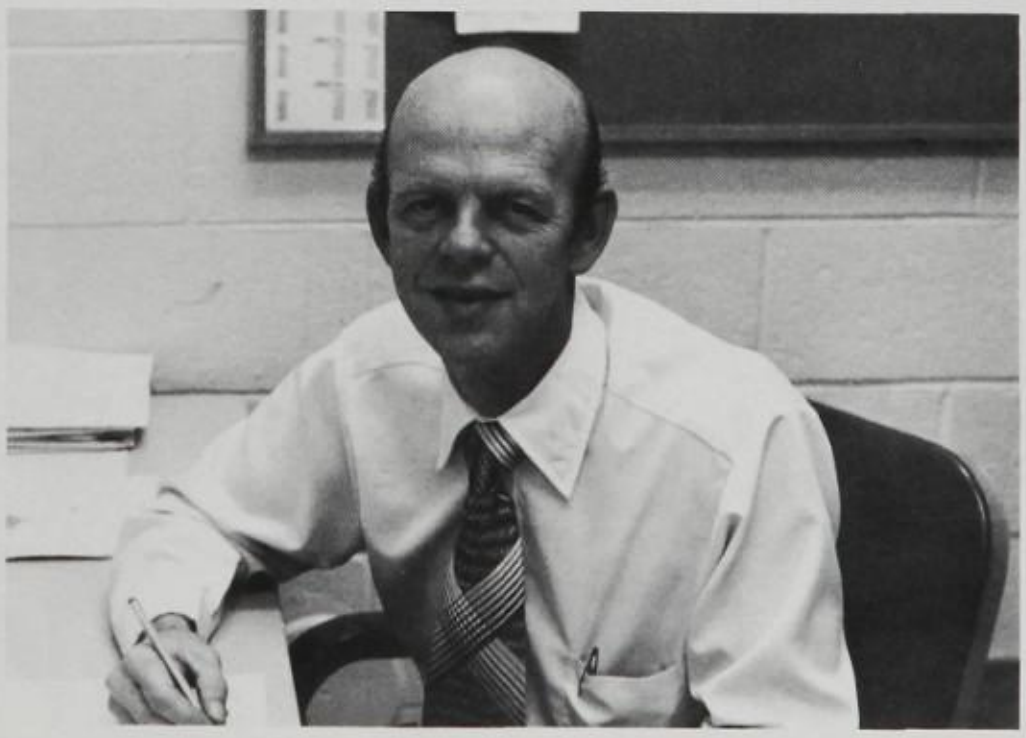
Now that graduation day nears, we come to one of our final, yet greatest challenges; that of adequately expressing our appreciation to two extraordinary people - Mrs. Patricia A. Bancroft and Mr. Rickey L. West.

As advisors and friends, they were always there when we needed them. They were a source of occasional chaos. They steadied our course and they gave us direction when the road got long or times got tough. Together they tempered our confusion. Our debt to them is immense.

Yet, somewhere between the laughter and the good times, the challanges and the triumphs, we never quite found the time to tell them these things. Never have we thanked them for their dedication nor their patience. Never have we expressed to them our feelings.

By dedicating our yearbook to them, we hope to show, finally, our great appreciation. The spirit they helped us culminate and the lessons they helped us learn will follow us throughout our lives. Thank you both.

The Class of 1983



The days fall behind us like the world from a rushing car; so easily do we shed them, so glad to see them go. We turn instead to the new dawn and gladly embrace a wonderous future laid out before our eager eyes. Yet still: we cannot forget the past. What we were, is what we are, and what is yet to come. Those long hours that seemed forever, treading softly through hated halls, were really at the core of all that sings to us with meaning. It is gone now; never again can we play as children or worry over such things as children do. We must look to tomorrow and seek out new things, but forever will these days spent here live in a restful memory.

Class History '83

As graduating seniors each of us looks back upon our high school days and treasures different moments and different relationships. We also remember the special events that have drawn us all together as one-The Class of 1983.

As freshman, we made our first appearance at the 1979 Shawnee Homecoming game in the form of a certain "Unknown Float". Yes, we are still trying to figure out whose idea that was. Nobody seems to want to admit to it.

Fortunately, our class efforts improved in the two following years. As sophomores, we presented "Shawnee Shoots for the Stars," a float the class of '83 had a right to be proud of. We also had a lot of fun sophomore year with our Sesame Street Skit. As a class, we were definitely on the right track by junior year. Our float "Shawnee is on the Right Track," helped us capture second place in the Spirit Week competition.

Senior year has been most rewarding for the class of '83. Almost every senior attended the Spirit Week pep rally, which featured Richard Simmons as Lenape's football coach. Our varsity football team reigned once more as we defeated Lenape in the homecoming game. The Class of '83 "Screamed for Vengeance," and we got it. Along with our award of first place in the Spirit Week competition, this was a perfect ending to four years of Shawnee spirit.

As a class, we seniors can look back upon and share many other high school memories. Most of us can still picture the oversized Campbell soup can near the office filled with cans of food for the needy. In addition to helping out others, our class raised money for our own class treasury. Many of us ate more Kit Kats and M&M's than we sold sophomore and senior years. Eating was also the best part of working the concession stand during home football games. Mrs. Bancroft and Mr. West were always on the scene to keep things running smoothly. Our class advisors never let us down. Our first Senior Variety Show was another successful fund raiser, and it gave many seniors an opportunity to reveal hidden talents.

Our fund raising efforts paid off on special evenings such as the Junior Dinner Dance and the Senior Prom, and on those fun-filled days in Disney World. It seems like we waited forever for these dates to arrive; and they were over before we knew it.

I am sure we will all have many more nights out on the town, but we will never have another high school prom. And no matter how many times we visit Disney World, it will never be the same as it was on our senior trip.

The class that will participate in the graduation ceremony is not the same group of people that crowded the Shawnee auditorium four years ago for freshman orientation. We have all seen many changes in ourselves since then.

The years to come will be filled with even more transition. Although we may all go our own separate ways, we will never forget the people with whom we shared these past four years. Perhaps we will stumble upon something that reminds us of our high school chums, and we will wonder what they have been up to. There will be only one sure way to find out — so don't miss our ten-year reunion. I will see you there.

Ann Denion
Class Historian

There's something more to High School than just school. It all seems to come together in the invigorating air of autumn as you stand on the sidelines to root for the team, or when you watch a lone cross-country runner straining over the last hundred yards. To walk through the school fields on a brisk afternoon is to hear the thump of feet on balls while the air thrills to shouts of encouragement. The rythmic chants of cheerleaders softly underline a grand scale of instrumental music echoing from the playing field to engulf the entire neighborhood in a glory of sound.

The days of practice culminate continously with a rolling stream of games and meets beckoning us all to stand up and see what our school is made of.

The grounds stand quiet now. But sometimes, if we listen closely, we can still hear the rhythm playing in our memory.

Gymnastics — No Routine At SHS

Sometimes, when you're sitting in the middle of the heap, it may seem like there's no end in sight. High school goes on forever and what comes after is only a myth, yet the seniors still graduate and the short people still come in while you're just shuffled in the pack. The time comes when there never was a beginning and never will be an end, but just a circle of empty classrooms. Then you look up one day to find that it's all gone to some mysterious resting ground, and the myth has now become those endless middle years.

Outside the world is dead. Fields turn to rock and the wind steals your soul. Yet, life can still be found on certain nights inside the weatherproof fortress of a school gym. The heat of intense competition melts the frozen atmosphere and gives a glimmer of hope through the long months when the most fervent activity takes place in dreams. The reality of athletes' dreams may ever elude all but a few; the reality of a hard-fought winter game will always release the dead of cold from inside. The clean basket or solid pin — the tropical air of the pool erases the memory of snow and stinging wind, but the time approaches when only memory will be left to do the job.

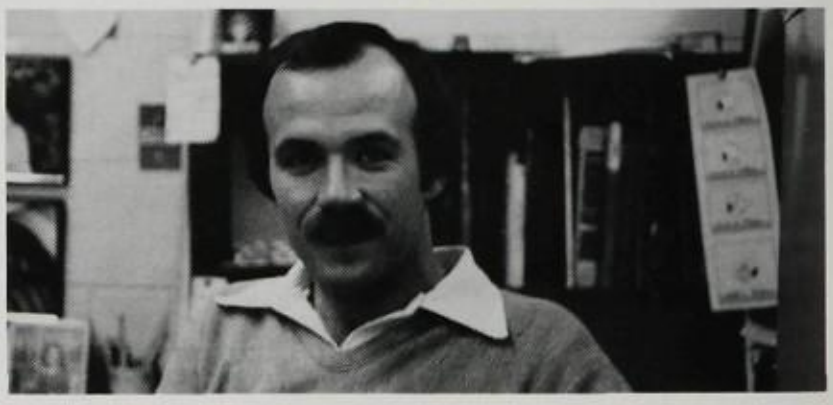
Through Combined Efforts



They fuse into the general framework of the school, as integral to it as the students are. Shouldering problems, resolving conflicts — they are the forces that work out the intricate mechanisms of education. For every function of this school there lurks a faculty member who carries the process to success. Success — their success makes our success all the easier; indeed, it makes it possible. And what we owe them — as teachers, as friends, as guides, can never quite be repaid.

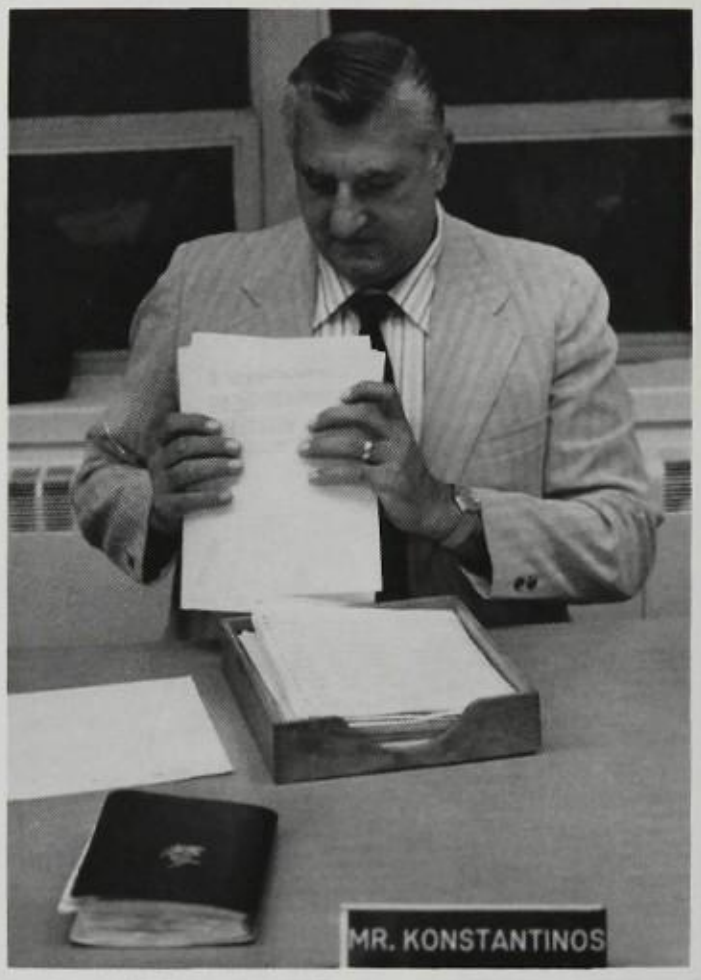
FACULTY



To the Class of 1983

You have each strived to graduate from high school with varying degrees of achievement and effort. You alone are cognizant of what you gave of yourself to the educative process and what you may have received in return.

It is now time for you to utilize the training you have received to help you master those tasks you will ascribe to in the future. The world contains an abundance of challenges that can be mastered by those of you who will have first been capable of mastering yourselves.

We have, in all good faith, attempted to provide you with the background to begin the next phase of your life. We would be presumptuous to believe we could have given you all the answers for the future. We believe education is not only to make a living but also to make life worth living. Our hope is that we have, in some degree, succeeded in assisting you in taking that inevitable, yet necessary, first step in search of your aspirations.

Our faith is with you in your quest for personal success, well-being, and happiness. Our dreams are that we will reflect in your glory and enjoy a better world through your designs.

To the Class of 1983

Senior trips, proms, yearbooks, and commencement exercises signal the end of an era in your life. But with the end of the era, commencement means the beginning of something new. For the past thirteen years you have been part of an educational program designed to equip you to take your place in the society in which you live. The education which you have received is not an end-all because in your lifetime it will be necessary for you to be retrained many times over because the technological world in which we live will require this of you. It is my sincere wish each of you acquire the skills, the intellectual desire and the willingness to work hard to become a competent, productive member of our democratic society.

Sincere best wishes,

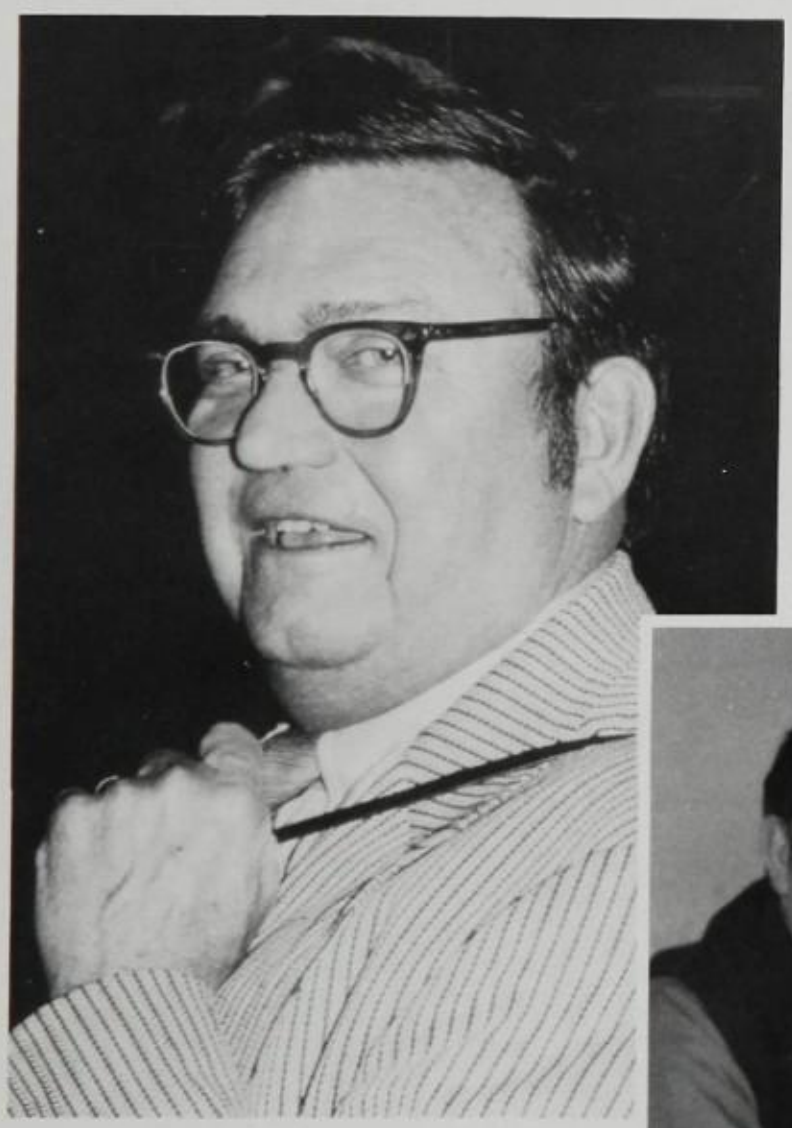
Mr. Robert Abbott



Last November 15 we received the sad, shocking news of the death of Mr. Robert Abbott, a dear friend and colleague. He had been a Shawnee Science teacher for 10 years, retiring in June, 1982.

We were greatly blessed by the presence of this unique man. He was a retired U.S. Navy officer with 32 years' service, including many combat and reconnaissance missions in the Pacific during World War II and the Cuban Missile crisis of 1962. Mr. Abbott held three master's degrees and was a co-owner of many patents in aircraft metallurgy and assembly processes. Several colleges offered him teaching positions upon his naval retirement. He chose instead to work at Shawnee, simply through love of Medford Lakes and the youth of our high school. This was a remarkable decision, since Mr. Abbott had absolutely no financial need whatever to work. He spent a considerable sum of his own money on the school, including the soundproofing of the AV center.

His military career, antique car collection, photography and amateur rocket hobbies provided us with a seemingly endless source of wonderful stories. As a teacher he was conscientious almost to a fault — often being the last Science teacher to the day to go home. He told a few of us the worst decision he ever made was to retire from Shawnee.

Bob Abbott's legacy was that of pure, unselfish love. Those of us who were his students and fellow workers are blessed with the memory of his friendship. Sadly, we'll never know a man quite like this again.

It's all around, every day, but no one ever sees it. Life. Taking on so many forms but never really being realized as significant. The life of a high school: laugh here, a yawn there, somebody bent over a book-it's all so commonplace. Yet the day will come when it isn't there, and suddenly that ordinary saunter through the hallway will take on mysterious meaning, hovering forever just out of reach. And so madly we rush through life with only age to show us up-till forgotten, ordinary times become the substance of wistful memory.

ACADEMICS

Exchange Students Enrich Shawnee

Marianne Kangstrom

I am Marianne Kangstrom and I am one of many exchange students from Sweden. I live with Mr. and Mrs. Oruska in Tamarac. They, like all Americans, are very nice to me. It has been a wonderful experience to be able to go to Shawnee. I have learned new things about the USA everyday. Like: Football games, Valentine's Day, and much much more. There are many things that are different from the school I am used to in Sweden. The academic side is not much different, but what I like best about Shawnee, is all the activities after school. I just hope more Americans could take this wonderful chance to be an exchange student. You would love it! I would like to thank everybody for making it a great year. If you would like to write or come and visit me in Sweden, here is my address:
Marianne Kangstrom

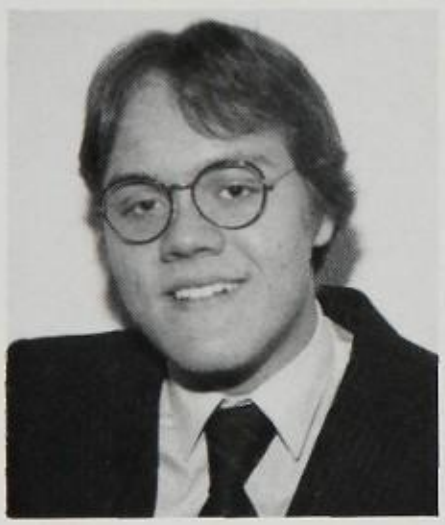
I hope to see you in Sweden some day!
Love,
Marianne

Hans Kittel

Hi! I'm Hans Kittel and I come from Frankfurt, West Germany, a city that's about half as big as Philadelphia. The general reasons for spending the school year at Shawnee are to make new friends and to improve my skills in speaking English. Shawnee is very similar to the school I go to in Germany, perhaps Shawnee is more strict and easier. My favorite subject is probably History, even though I get the worst grades in it. English is my least favorite. So far I'm enjoying my stay very much and I wish the year would last a little longer.

Jens Dahm



My name is Jens Dahm. I am seventeen years old and come from Hamburg, West Germany. I am a senior at Shawnee and I think it's great. I have one brother, who is fifteen years old. My father works for a shipping line and my mother works for a blood transfusion institute. The family I'm staying with over here is te Dereskewicz family. After three more years of High School in Germany, I want to go to a university. My major will be Journalism. I want to work later on the medias. My hobbies are: swimming, reading, music, photography, and traveling. I'm very interested in current events, a nuclear freeze. The music I'm interested in listening to is New Wave or Mod-Music, which comes from Great Britain. I really like it over here and I'm having a good time. I recognize that American and German way of life aren't that diferent and think if we work together we can do big things.

Karoline Lund

My name is Karoline Lund and I was one of the Norwegian Exchange students chosen to spend one year at an American High School. So far this year has been very successful and full of new experiences, both good and bad. After being in one of these exchange programs, I think it is one of the best ways to learn about other countries, people and cultures. Anybody who has this chance should take it. I don't think you'll ever regret it. I would like to thank all of you who have helped me making this year great, including my fantastic host family: Leslie, Linda, and Craig Baechler. I also hope I'll see some of you in Norway soon. I would love to show you a little bit of my country too!
Love ya,
Karoline

A "Little Touch" Of Japan

The students of Shawnee were fortunate this year to have an exchange teacher from Japan. Kazuko Mizota joined our staff in October to share with us her customs and expertise in the Arts. She was invited by Valerie Smith-Pope and hosted by Barbara Bullock.

Kazuko did Kimono dressing, origami, flower arranging and Japanese calligraphy for the art, geometry, home ec. classes and some English classes. She did some presentations in the Media Center.

Kazuko was with us until December.

Matching Wits On The "Knowledge Bowl"

Teams from Shawnee (left) and Paul VI wait to begin taping; the show is a high school version of the old 'College Bowl' program.

The Knowledge Bowl

Team Captain and Junior Steve Donweber, Seniors Mark Rowe, John Fantini, Helen Thorpe, and alternates Roger Weaver and Gary Ennis proudly represented Shawnee High School in the Knowledge Bowl contest against Paul VI High School on February 10, 1983. Counciled by Miss Georgianne Kloss and Ms. Patricia Anthony, the team was chosen by eliminations from over 30 Shawnee students who originally competed.

All schools taking part in the contest won $300 in scholarship money and had the chance to accumulate as much as $5,000 if they won the entire competition. Despite a respectful defeat to Paul VI High School, Shawnee's Knowledge Bowl Team turned in an outstanding performance being the first school to appear on the NYT Cable television's "Battle of the Brains." Also, Junior Jack Dennison's logo was chosen over 40 others submitted to be the offical logo of the broadcast program.

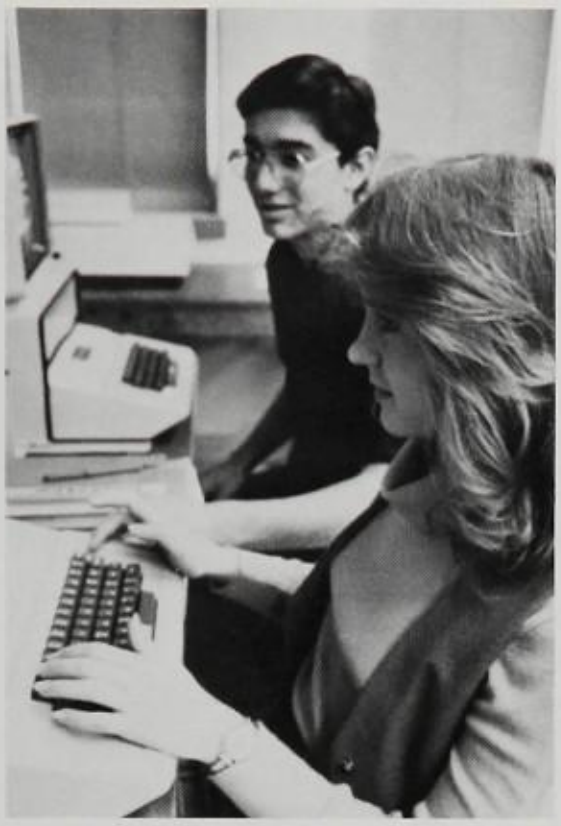
Computer Mania Hits Shawnee



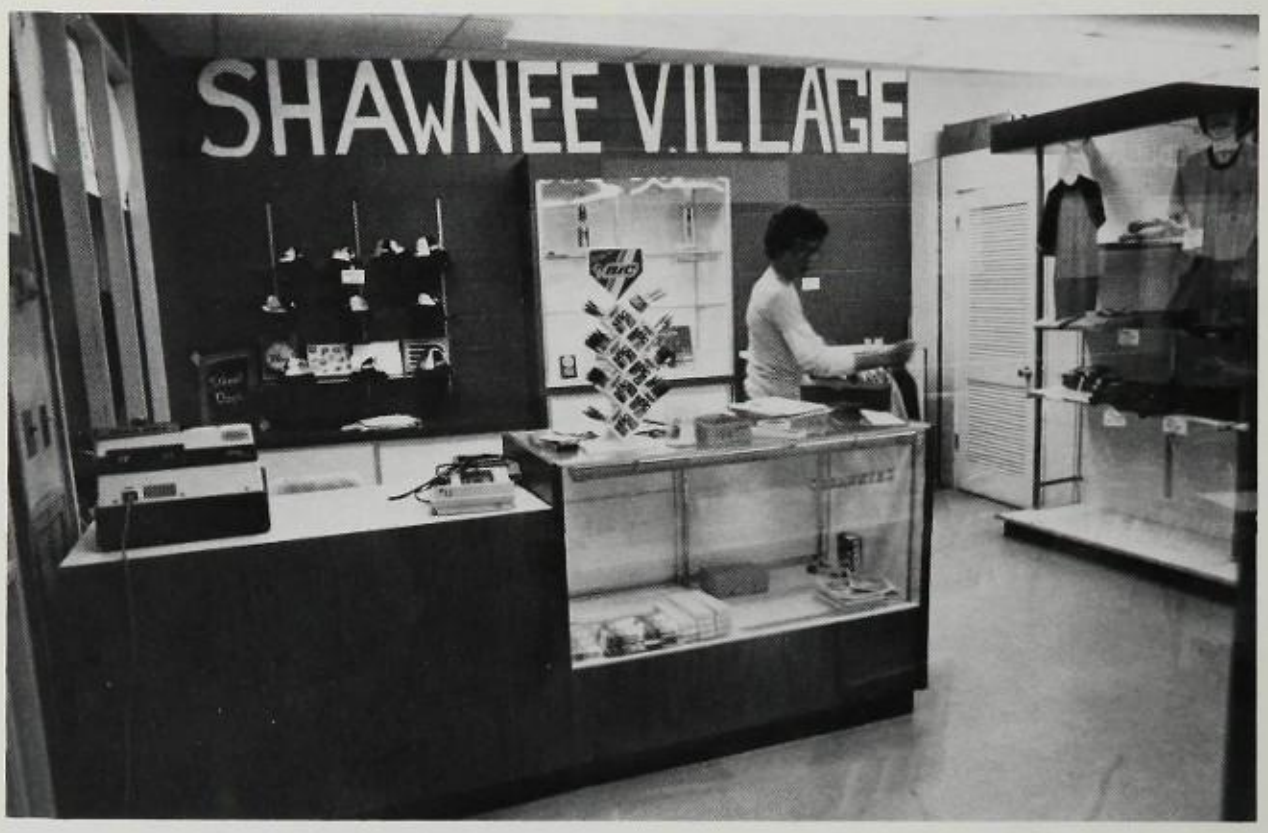
It seems appropriate that in the year Time Magazine proclaimed the computer as Machine of the Year, Shawnee High School became the new home of 11 computer terminals. Room C213 has taken on a new name this year - the Computer Room. A bond issue passed last year providing funds for the addition of 10 Apple II microcomputers, Corvus' Winchester disks for storage, and an Omninet system which networks the terminal in the library and the eleven terminals in C213 to the Corvus disk drive.

Not only is Shawnee High School fortunate to have the computer room but the Business Department has three TRS-80 Model III microcomputers and two A. B. Dick text editors with dual disk drives, printers, and CRT's.

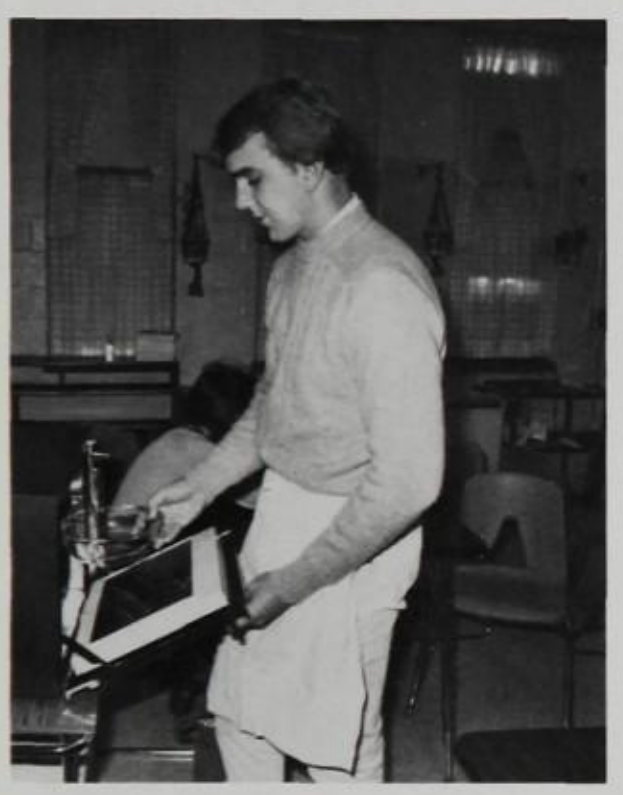
The Computer Room has been heavily used by the Finite Math classes. This course concentrates on programming these Apple terminals in the BASIC language. Computer club members also used the new machinery. These members have spent many afternoons writing programs or running some of the existing programs. The Information Processing classes used the Computer Room to learn how to make the computer into a word processor and a data processor. Several teachers brought their classes to the Computer Room so their students could use some of the many relevant programs presently stored on the system.

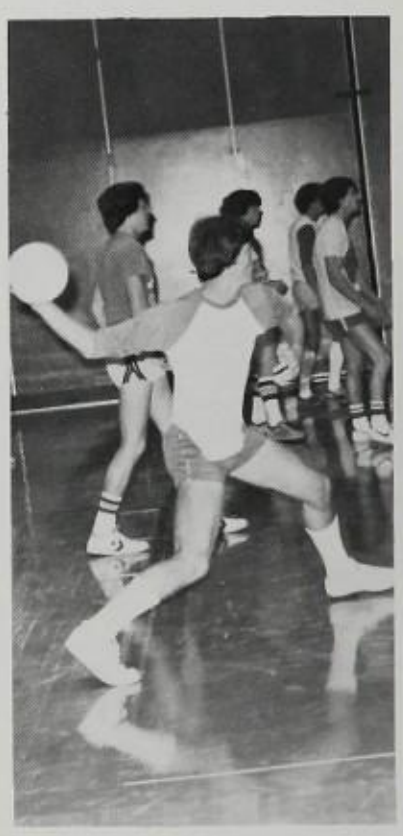
Though the Computer Room was a most welcome and well-used addition to Shawnee this year, we have only tapped the surface of the use of computers in education. We have so much more we can, and will, do with these little machines. This year we planted the Apple seed at Shawnee. In the next decade we will see the rapid growth of this tree as it branches into many areas of our school.

A Variety Of Classes Promotes



Academic Excellence





After all the classes are over and nearly everyone has gone, the jocks are raucously evident on the school grounds. Everyone sees them - everyone hears them. Dig a little deeper into the forgotten rooms on the wrong side of the corridor, and suddenly there's more to extra-curricular activities than athletics. Much more! It oozes through the halls and pours out of the school with clear notes ringing. Look closer and it seems as if there are the people who really run the school, who make it what it is. Who give it it's character.

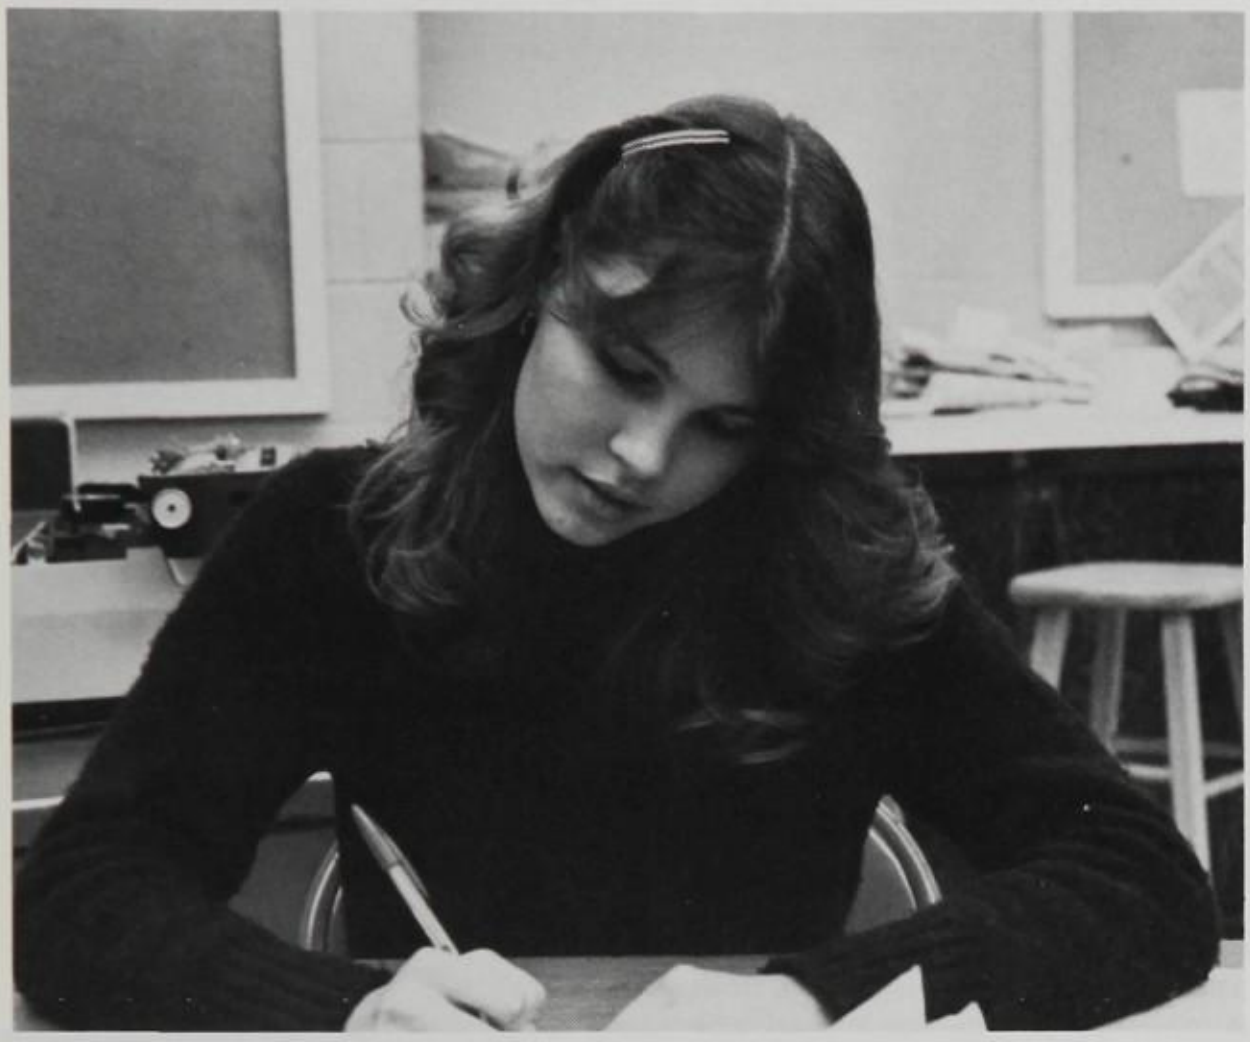
Series Of Difficult Challenges



Junior Editor-in-Chief, Kelley Dougherty

Pages of memories can best describe the yearbook of our school. Starting as early as the end of the previous school year, the advisors and new editors plan the layout and content of the yearbook. In September, as the classes, sports, and activities are in full swing, the staff begins to gather the photographs and copy that go into making the yearbook. Each member has a job to do, some very mundane, and some quite challenging. Everything that is done over the course of the year by each member of the staff helps creat what is a fine example of high school publishing. TECUMSEH has been a prize-winning yearbook for the past three years after participating in the Columbia Scholastic Press Association National Competition.

In addition, it gives concerts twice during each school year. From its membership are drawn smaller instrumental performing groups such as the Jazz Ensemble, the Clarinet Ensemble, and the All School Musical Orchestra. Morning Stretch?

1, 2, Tap, Tap, Slap, Slap, 7, 8.

Stretch those limbs! Tighten those thighs!!!

Bottoms up!

Bombs away!

This is a stick up!

Beyond the shadowed door of this closed world lies a bigger world, bigger and more trecherous. Out there also are those who need the help of others. And all kinds of help pour out of this school, to the young and the old, the injured sick. Their call is answered by the ones that can hear, the ones who will listen. They are the ones that become all the richer. They know that to help another is really to help oneself.

Students Actively Concerned (SAC) is a community service group that helps those of less fortunate lifestyles. They perform variety shows for the mentally and physically handicapped as well as for the elderly. SAC of Shawnee is a highly respected group in the community. It is known around the county for the fine work of its members.

Community Service Volunteers are students who want to become active members of the community by giving their time to help others. Shawnee volunteers gain skills and self-confidence by reaching out to help others in the community.

Christmas Show

SAC - Students Actively Concerned

Caring, helping, and sharing are what SAC is all about. It is Shawnee's student organization designed to help in the community. Variety shows run by the students, organized by the students, and performed by the students are a way to help the handicapped and elderly make life a little easier. The music of the performers helps a little girl with cerebral palsy clap her hands. It makes a lonely old man tap his foot for the first time in a long time.

SAC is a highly respected group in the community. People know that this group of teenagers is out to help, not to hinder, and help they do. All through the school year SAC visits special places to help a small handicapped child cope and to give the elderly people the respect and gratitude to which they are entitled.

SAC is a good experience for any member of Shawnee who would like to be involved in the community.

Child Care

Studying children by observing them in our classroom is one of the favorite activities of the Child Care classes at Shawnee. Infants, toddlers, and preschoolers have been the objects of our curiosity and interest, and observing them in action makes the classroom a living laboratory. Former students, some of our teacher Mr. and Mrs. G. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. R. Pullen, Mrs. Dougherty, Mrs. Columbo, Mrs. Capps), and some of our classroom students have shared with us their own children or those of relatives and friends.

Our study of these children involves several objectives: to recognize the predictable stages of child growth, to understand the relationship of these stages to other growth patterns, and to plan experiences which will stimulate new learnings. At the same time our students are developing greater powers of observation and new insights into their own development as well as preparing for future roles in parenting or related careers.

The parents are invited to discuss the care areas with us, and they allow us to observe their infants in action as the students form a circle around them to watch and to interact. It is easier to remember "in the mouth" stage when we can relate it to a particular child.

Eventually, after learning about developement to age six, the students plan for and carry out a mini-playschool for toddlers and preschoolers whom they invite through their own contacts. The sessions might be for two to three periods, three or more days a week for up to six weeks. The Family Living Room furniture is rearranged and the room is transformed into a child's world of small chairs, tables, toys, and games. Students prepare the area and the activity schedule, initiate the activities, handle the children individually and collectively, observe them and report on their observations. Students become teachers which allows them a new role of responsibility, and for some, new insights into their own preparedness for the adult model. For most, it is the "pause in the day's occupation" which could be known as the "Children's Hour" because for this time period, it allows each student to rekindle a bit of the child she/he once was and to enjoy learning in a totally fun way.

"Libraries are not merely storehouses of the relics of the past, but meeting places for people and ideas, vital partners in our system of education."

President's Commission of Libraries

"The school which thinks of education as something it helps students to do for themselves will have a large, active, busy library with students moving about, learning from books, from other materials, from each other — creating an atmosphere of people in pursuit of something."

Harold Howe II, Commissioner of Education

The media center is an attractive, two story, round room in the middle of the classroom building. Learning materials available to students and teachers include books, magazines, newspapers, microforms, video tapes, listening tapes, films, records, art works, and computerized information. Audio visual equipment is also distributed from the center. The media center staff is aided by student workers and adult volunteers from the community. The media specialists give book talks, make book lists, video tape programs, make slide-tape programs, teach reference skills, obtain materials from other libraries, conduct orientation sessions, arrange special exhibits and events, as well as help find answers to questions and good books to read. It is an active center where the use of learning materials is encouraged and where one can seek and find both information and inspiration.

Earn While You Learn!

The SOS (senior optional schedule) Program allows for Shawnee seniors to obtain part-time employment in many community businesses.

Students who are fortunate to be members of Cooperative Office Education and Distributive Education programs are given assistance in securing their positions while being supervised by their coordinator. These students are working in such places as Interboro Savings & Loan Association, Cranberry Pines School, Allen School, Taunton Forge School, Medford Township Office, Haines School, Shawnee Media Center, Jan R. Evans Law Office, John Wanamaker's, Marshall's, Lucky-7, etc.

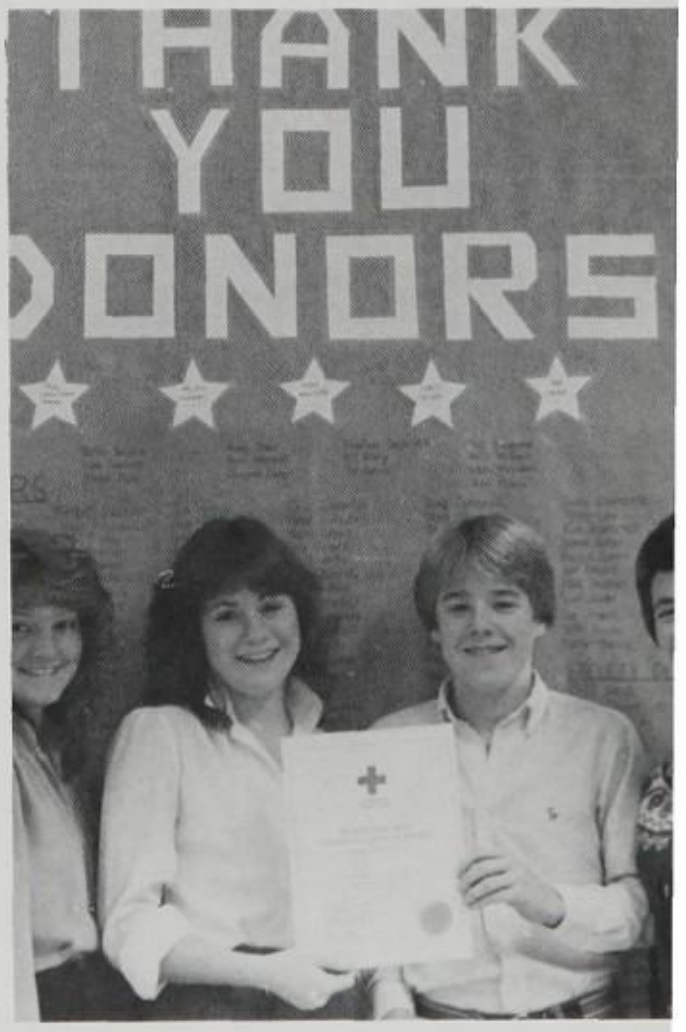
Other students find their own employment in places like Medford Leas, McDonald's, Acme, Thriftway, Shop & Bag, Eckerd Drugs, Glenn's Home Supply, area gas stations, and other local businesses.

Not Quite My Type!



Special Events

Just when the never-changing pattern of school has everyone lulled into the belief that its all really an illusion, something happens. Suddenly, the halls become a showcase, and people are running around painted blue. It changes a democracy to a monarchy for one insane day. Then just when the gym appeared useless, they threw a couple of karate aces into it. Out of the wintertime blues, the school burst apart with incredible talent, all singing "Hallejhujah!" — vacation time is almost here. And when the snowless January threatened to overwhelm the entire student body with incredible boredom, Shawnee's cream jumped on stage and stripped the blahs away.

Wasted On The Way

Look around me
I can see my life before me
Running rings around the way it
Used to be

I am older now
I have more than what I wanted
But I wish that I had started
Long before I did

Oh when you were young
Did you question all the answers
Did you envy all the dancers
Who had all the nerve

Look around you now
You must go for what you wanted
Look at all my friends who did and Got what they deserved

So much water moving
Underneath the bridge
Let the water come and carry us away

And there's so much time to make up
Everywhere you turn
Time we have Wasted on the way

Dedication To Mrs. Clare Noble

On March 14th 1983 we learned of the sudden death of Mrs. Clare H. Noble a dear friend and colleague. Mrs. Noble had been a Biology and Earth Science teacher for 10 years at Shawnee High School.

Mrs. Noble's devotion to Shawnee and our students was clearly evidenced by the many hours she was willing to spend with young people. She was, at one time, the advisor to the Biology Club, advisor to the class of 1978, and had been the advisor to the Student Council for several years.

Her schedule was never too full to accomodate a colleague, parent, student, ect. Whether in giving energy, time, or just a willing ear. (She also baked the greatest cinnamon buns.)

Mrs. Noble was the mother of five children, a member of her church choir and active in other groups that assist less fortunate people.

Clare's greatest legacy was her unselfish love for Shawnee High School and all the young people who passed through the doors. She will be greatly missed by all those who knew and loved her.

"One of the marks of true greatness is the ability to develop greatness in others."

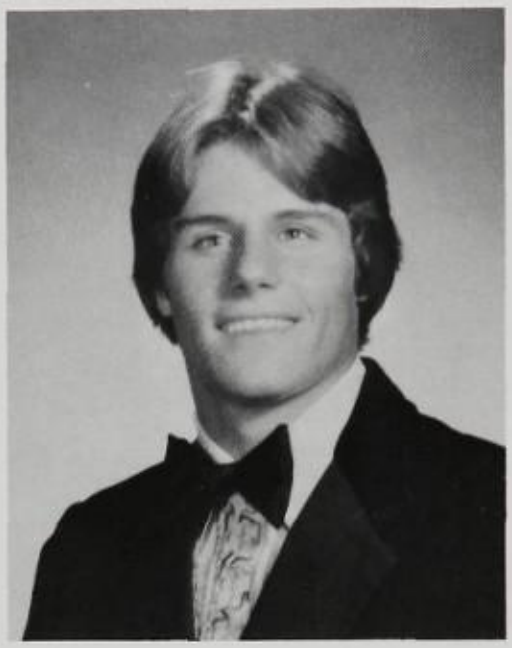
In Memory Of Chuck And Jim

Friends



Playing his guitar on a solitary night,
Watching a sunset fade out of sight.

Running for the joy of feeling free,
Conniving to play a joke on me.

Eating Mcnuggets, burgers, and shakes,
Swimming and splashing across the lakes.

Sweating, working, never giving in,
Determined to score the seven to win.

Skiing on a new fallen snow,
Laughing, enjoying the memories grow.

Giving advice to always take care,
Thinking we could count on him to always be there.

Remembering him in all of these ways,
We'll cherish his memory all of our days.

BY: Bob Bradley

We loved you as our brother and our best friend too.

We still can't understand why he had to take you.

You warmed peoples hearts
in your very own special way.

We wish you hadn't left so soon
We had so many needed words to say.

The pain is still there
and it will be forever.

But all the fun times we shared will leave our minds never.

It's hard to accept this fact that you've been on your way.

Oh Chuckie, we still can't understand why you had to die one day.

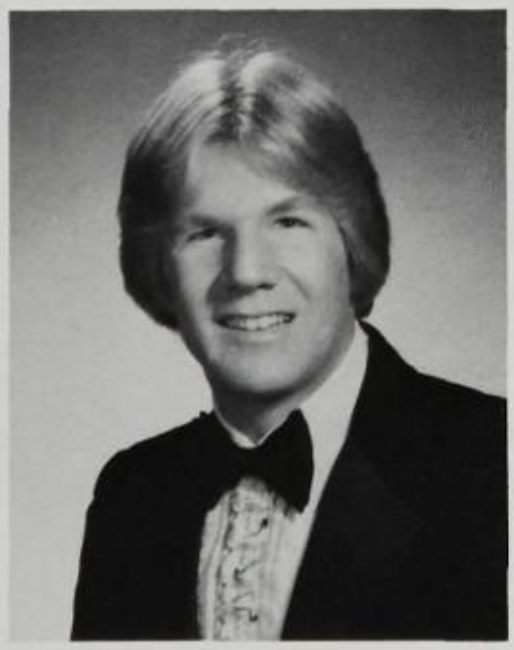
BY: Julie Walsh



"Like the flowers that bloom with the beauty of spring and then are withered under the gentle sun's harsh rays, you have lived your short existence as long as was possible. And although we can no longer hold you in our arms, your remembrance will be held within our soul so that we may cherish the life you once had shared with us. May God protect you where he has led you."
